Year in review 2022

in March, 2023

The Colorful Life di Ralph Behnke company has and had the goal of acting as a consultant. The branch of paid telephone advice was discontinued due to a lack of demand at the lowest price - a payment agreement with Swisscom after 12 months.

The research, which also dealt with the crisis of the Covid virus and natural medicines and remedies against it, was quite successful - from a health point of view.

Through the voluntary work of my wife, direct contact with the Federal Chancellor came about W. Thurnherr, who was very open to our research and thanked us for the information. The indication that our immune system urgently needs oxygen to defend itself against other diseases also bore noticeable fruit.

A few days after this phone call, the media announced that there would be a planned reduction in the mask requirement. Of course we welcomed that.

We didn't receive any money on the account for this, but part of the goal is to be able to take on an advisory function in our society.

Those suffering from this virus have also found a quick recovery if they find the right one for themselves from our list https://colorfullife.ch/var/m_a/a9/a9c/255092/11882807-Tabellen%C3%BCbersicht_Mittel_gegen_Covid_EN-6512b.pdf?download have picked out.

Once was here in Ticino in Biasca - except for the manager, everyone in his department fell ill with Covid - since my wife indicated to him what we were working on, he wrote down all the information - interrupted work and brought his sick employees the natural antidotes such as turmeric - after a short time they were all well again.

We have also sent information to health authorities on our homepage, but have not received any official feedback from them. However, we absolutely have to give medical professionals the space and warn against vaccination - which should not bear that name. Here is a report from Urs Guthauser/ Surgeon FMH and Sports Medicine SGSM with his own practice since 2000 in Bern. Please read this article thoroughly:

We contacted the WHO international responsible persons directly in several e-mails in 2022 and received no answer - we were referred to e-mails by telephone. We also followed the complaint against Swissmedic with great interest. This year 23 , we're having a E-mail to the Swiss federal government warning of not introducing mandatory vaccinations and pointing out that the WHO is being used as a control body. Our wish and prayer to Jesus - and the request to the politicians is that we in Switzerland, as a role model, do not sign any vaccination contracts and that freedom of expression in the medical field remains.

And we don't just talk about it, we do something and have also signed a petition via e-mail via patriotpetition.org, which speaks out against compulsory vaccination.

We were also able to research supposedly incurable diseases differently and found natural and unusual remedies that counteract these diseases.

After increased demand from some citizens - whether there are vital substances or vitamins with a doctor's prescription via the basic insurance, we were able to put some together.

We also became aware of the possible healing effects of essential oils (list created by me, on www.colorfullife.ch) and looked for natural antibiotics. We have achieved a lot and are happy about it. We already have plans for the new year. Any questions? Just call. We wish everyone a lot of blessings and peace and also good health for the future.

Kind regards, Ralph Behnke
